

The Office for Equity & Inclusion invites you to attend an interactive talk with Professor David Kyuman Kim.

Love & Justice: A Radical Love Approach

SAVE THE DATE

Sept 19, 2016

Memorial Chapel

4:30pm-6pm

Refreshments and conversation with Prof. Kim to follow immediately after the town-hall in the Zelnick Pavilion.

Explore the idea of Radical Love and how, if we embrace it, the world will change. This town-hall is a kick-off to a year-long theme around Love & Justice.

Please RSVP by clicking here

David Kyuman Kim is a teacher, cultural critic, philosopher of religion, and scholar of race, religion and public life. In 2003, Kim joined the faculty of Connecticut College where he is Professor of Religious Studies and American Studies. He has also taught at Harvard University, Union Theological Seminary, and Brown University. Published widely on religion and public life, political theory, and the Asian American religious experience, Kim is author of Melancholic Freedom: Agency and the Spirit of Politics (Oxford, 2007), and co-editor of The Post-Secular in Question (New York University Press, 2012) and Race, Religion, and Late Democracy, a special issue of The ANNALS of the American Academy of Political and Social Science (Sage, 2011). With John L. Jackson, Kim is co-editor of the Stanford University Press book series RaceReligion.

